Dear Dr. Soni Nopembri

The payment for your paper is received now. Please send us the revision as per the review below:

Paper ID: 1600228

The present study examines the effects of physical education (PE) and sports programs in reducing children's negative emotional states in disaster-prone areas near the Merapi volcano peak in Indonesia.

Overall speaking, the manuscript is well documented. The introduction is comprehensive, the literature review is thorough, the methodology is appropriate, - the results are explicitly presented, the discussion is thought-provoking and the conclusion is instructive. The English in the manuscript is fluent. The topic of the manuscript is attractive and well accordant with the scope of the journal. The manuscript would be perfect and ready for publication after the following aspect is improved.

Why were two control groups rather than one control group set in the present study? Please clarify the reasons in Section 2.1.

Thank you for your kind cooperation.
